Message from the Chair

With the Covid-19 restrictions still lingering, I am pleased to announce that we have come up with a special way to commemorate what would have been our 155th Annual Show.

Not only will we be holding the Show competition online, we'll be putting large printed photos of the winning entries on display in the village and, as a bonus, first prize winners will receive the photo of their entry.

Although the restrictions mean we are unable to hold a physical Show, we are planning an outdoor event on 28th August – not the Show – in the village that meets Covid-19 guidance and guarantees we can socialise safely. Although it is still in the 'seedling' stage, we'll announce on our website a fully-bloomed event in early August.

Obviously, the Horti has to consider people's safety first and foremost and so we hope people won't be too disappointed that we are unable to hold a building-based Show this year. But I encourage you to post your entries online, save the 28th date and make 2021 a bigger success than last year!

KCHS was established in 1850 and is managed by a committee, elected every year. The aim is to promote interest, knowledge and skills in the practice of horticulture and crafts amongst the public, in particular in Killearn and the nearby Strathendrick villages. KCHS supports local voluntary and charitable organisations which contribute to the development or wellbeing of the local community. You can read more on our website.
